

Unifying Lessons in Biocatalysis

Start Time: Tuesday, June 16, 2020

End Time:

The UniSysCat researchers Marius Horch, Oliver Lenz, Ingo Zebger, Holger Dobbek, and Kallol Ray have contributed together with the former Einstein visiting fellow Stephen P. Cramer and many other renowned experts to a new textbook on “Bioorganometallic Chemistry”.

Here, they introduce this transdisciplinary field to advanced students and researchers, covering important aspects like catalytic hydrogen conversion, CO₂ reduction, the oxidation of methane, and spectroscopic techniques for studying bioorganometallic catalysts.
